We do not currently process any personal data through automated decision making or profiling. Should this change in the future, privacy notices will be updated to explain both the processing and your right to object to it.

4. How we collect governance volunteers' information

We collect personal information in a variety of ways. For example, data is collected through application forms, obtained from your passport or other identity documents such as your driving licence, from forms completed by you at the start of or during your term as a governance volunteer, from correspondence with you, or through interviews, meetings or other assessments, images provided by you or taken using school/trust photographic equipment, local authorities, the NHS, law enforcement agencies e.g. police, the Disclosure and Barring Service and the Department for Education.

Governance volunteers' data is essential for the trust's operational use. Whilst the majority of personal information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it may be requested on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with UK GDPR, we will inform you at the point of collection, whether you are required to provide certain information to us or if you have a choice in this.

We are required to share information about individuals in governance roles with the (DfE) under the requirements set out in the Academy Trust Handbook

All data is entered manually on the GIAS system and held by DfE under a combination of software and hardware controls which meet the current government security policy framework.

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Government and the Department for Education including the data that we share with them, go to www.gov.uk/government/news/national-database-of-governors.

The governance data that we lawfully share with the DfE via Get Information About Schools (<https://get-information-schools.service.gov.uk/>) :

- will increase the transparency of governance arrangements
- will enable maintained schools and academy trusts and the department to identify more quickly and accurately individuals who are involved in governance and who govern in more than one context
- allows the department to be able to uniquely identify an individual and in a small number of cases conduct checks to confirm their suitability for this important and influential role.

Note: Some of these personal data items are not publicly available and are encrypted within the GIAS system. Access is restricted to a small number of DfE staff who need to see it in order to fulfil their official duties. The information is for internal purposes only and not shared beyond the department, unless law allows it.

10. Companies House

Companies House is the registry for all UK limited companies, and academies are required to provide Companies House with information about the school's activities, annual accounts and who controls it. Academies must also give details of its directors (which are trustees), who are responsible for running the company (which is the school). This collection of public information is commonly known as the Companies House register or 'public register'.

The Companies House register (<https://find-and-update.company-information.service.gov.uk/>) is available worldwide for the public to search online free of charge. Anybody who becomes a director or officer of a company must be prepared for some of their details to be made publicly available. It's important to understand what information academies have a duty to make available to the public.

What information is made public: name, nationality, occupation, date of birth (month and year), correspondence address (which will be the school address). Full date of birth and home address will also be provided; however, this information will not be available on the public register for everyone to see. It is kept on a private register and Companies House will only provide this information to credit reference agencies and specified public authorities, such as the police. In certain circumstances, you may be able to restrict the disclosure of your home address to credit reference agencies.

More information about this can be found here - <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/your-personal-information-on-the-public-record-at-companies-house>

11. Freedom of Information Act 2000 and Environmental Information Regulations 2004

As a public body, our Trust is subject to requests made under the above legislation. Therefore, we have a legal obligation to process any personal data we hold when considering requests under these laws.

For example, we may receive a request asking about numbers and/or roles of governors.

However, we will never disclose personal data in our responses to these requests where to do so would contravene the principles of data protection.

12. Requesting access to your personal data

You also have the right to:

- be informed about the collection and use of your personal data.

- erasure, often known as the ‘right to be forgotten’; however this does not apply where, amongst other things, processing is necessary to comply with a legal obligation.
- restrict processing, although, as above this is a limited right.
- object; though other than for marketing purposes, this is also limited as above.
- Where we rely on your consent to process your data, you have the right to revoke that consent. If you do change your mind, or you are unhappy with our use of your personal data, please let us know – our contacts are in section 1.14 at the end of this document.
- You also have rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling, though these are not currently relevant
- Finally, the right to seek redress, either through the ICO, or through the courts

If you make a request, we will keep a record of the request and any personal data supplied for a suitable period after its fulfilment, in order to deal with any questions you, your representatives or regulators may have about it.
